The Bartech Group Recognized By Eaton Corporation as a Premier Supplier Award Winner

June 29, 2009, LIVONIA —Billing and managing $1 billion in professional staffing, workforce management and consulting expenditures on behalf of its customers, The Bartech Group was a winner of the prestigious Eaton Premier Supplier Award. Diversified power management company Eaton Corporation recently honored 38 premier suppliers as part of the Company's supplier recognition program. This is the fourth year that Eaton has recognized a select group of its global suppliers with this coveted award with Bartech winning the award each year.

"Our innovative technologies help customers manage power more efficiently, effectively and safely," said Craig Reed, Senior Vice President of Supply Chain Management at Eaton Corporation. "Top-notch suppliers, like those recognized through this awards program, help us ensure we are meeting our commitments to our customers."

Jon E. Barfield, Chairman and President of The Bartech Group, commented, "We are honored to be recognized as a supplier of choice and one that delivers superior quality, among Eaton's thousands of suppliers worldwide. Bartech strives to provide Eaton with the most cost-effective, efficient and competitive solutions." He went on to say, "This award is a testament to our tradition of excellence. We remain committed to raising the bar on our performance – to bring talent solutions that add value to our customers, enabling them to win in an increasingly challenging and dynamic economic environment."

Over the past 3 years The Bartech Group has been recognized with a record 17 quality based awards. It is the only minority owned firm in the staffing and human capital industry to mount such consistent accolades for its achievements in delivering the highest quality talent solutions to its customers.
